

ABSTRACT

A vacuum pump, in particular for brake booster systems in motor vehicles, with a drivable rotor via which a blade in a housing can be set in rotation is disclosed. The vacuum pump is distinguished by the fact that the rotor consists of plastic and is formed as one piece.

1000000-1500000